Biographical Synopsis for Andrea Basile, M.D.

Andrea Basile, MD is the founder and Medical Director of BASILE Plastic Surgery, a plastic surgery practice since 2002 dedicated to Aesthetic Medicine and Cosmetic Plastic Surgery, including surgical and non-invasive approaches to beauty enhancement.

Doctor Basile is certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery.

Before establishing his practice in Naples, Doctor Basile was an Assistant Professor of Plastic Surgery at Boston University School of Medicine and attending surgeon at the Boston Medical Center.

Doctor Basile's education took place in highly esteemed centers including Tufts University, Georgetown University School of Medicine, Harvard University's New England Deaconess Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital. Doctor Basile then returned to Georgetown University for his residency training in Plastic Surgery, and then to Rio De Janeiro, as a visiting fellow in Aesthetic Surgery, with Dr Ivo Pitanguy, an internationally acknowledged pioneer of modern plastic surgery techniques.

It is this kind of dedication to knowledge and training that has allowed Doctor Basile to develop technically advanced skills to empower his sense of artistry, giving him the ability to provide his patients with aesthetically accurate body improvements.
